The location is equally compelling. Batu Bolong puts owners and guests close to Canggu's beaches, cafés, restaurants, fitness studios and vibrant lifestyle scene, while still offering the potential for a more structured hospitality investment than owning and operating a private villa independently.

With a leasehold structure and a hospitality management model, Radisson Individuals Anta Canggu is an opportunity to consider for investors looking to participate in Bali's tourism market without taking on the day-to-day operation of their own villa.
